

WE NOMINATE

Leslie Langdon Vivian, Jr., a dedicated Princetonian for well over two decades and an administrative officer of Princeton University since he turned his back on Wall Street in the late 1910's, who has been named to a new University post of mounting significance both to Town and Gown. Effective immediately, this 51-year-old native of New Jersey becomes the University's first Director of Community and Regional Affairs, charged with strengthening "effective relations between the University and the Princeton community," a vital job reflecting what President Robert F. Goheen terms "the University's concern for the entire community and for the mutual interests and the degree of dependence each on the other."

For the past several years, ever since he was promoted from the ranks of research executives to the University's Central Administration, Vivian has become more and more involved in community affairs. A director of the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce and Civic Council and increasingly active in the Middlesex-Somerset-Mercer Regional Study Council, a citizen planning organization for the three-county area, he has been devoting long days, including weekends and countless evening meetings, to coordinating the University's responses to community housing needs and developments, zoning and tax proposals, public safety and the policies of municipal bodies.

Vivian's approach to his responsibilities was clearly indicated by the key role he played last March in the highly successful open meeting jointly sponsored by the Princeton Area Council of Community Services and the University's Committee on Relations with the Local Community on the broad topic, "The Challenges of a Modern University Community." Gathering in the School of Engineering and Applied Science, some 330 Princetonians — residents of varying ages, professions, race, sex and opinions — in 15 simultaneous workshops searched for new directions in such basic areas as housing and land use, drugs, educational, cultural and recreational resources.

A past president of the Princeton Class of 1912, and a decorated Army veteran of World War II, who served for some four years with the 13th Armored Division, Vivian brings to his portfolio a wealth of administrative experience, including 15 years spent with the Office of Research and Project Administration. He is a former Assistant to the Chairman of the Department of Physics and in recent years has held the titles of Director of University Relations and Director, Regional and Governmental Relations.

Deeply interested in all facets of Princeton life, Vivian will roam somewhat beyond Princeton and its environs in that his defined functions embrace the State of New Jersey — the general public, civic organizations and institutions as well as county and state governments. A member of the Youth Concerns Committee of the Council of Community Services, a director of the United Community Fund, and Secretary of The Princeton Arts Council, he is a former Elder of the First Presbyterian Church, a recent trustee of Princeton Hospital, a former Assistant District Commissioner of the Boy Scouts, and is extremely proud that his wife, the former Anita L. Willis, of Great Neck, N.Y., has succeeded him as a First Church Elder.

For his awareness that cooperative planning "is apt to be the glue holding society together"; for emphasizing the urgent need for more and continuing communication between local groups, and between the University and the community of which it is part; for seeking courses of action to achieve the maximum mutual benefits from relationships linking town and gown, he is our nominee as

ONE POLICE CHIEF?
Question to be Discussed:
With Princeton Township he twice police chiefs, is this a good time to consider a reorganized, consolidated force
with the Borough?
Borough Council had asked Mayor Robert W. Cayley to open the subject with Township Mayor John D. Wallace.
Mayor Cayley repeated Tuesday night that Mayor Wallace suggests a conference between the two police commissioners:
Robert Hendry for the Borough and William L. Wilson for the Township.
Mayor Cayley said he would join the discussions, too. Mayor Wallace is presently on vacation.

All-Evening Swim. If the proper lights could be obtained, Recreation Director Don ald Barr would agree to night
time use of the Community Park Swimming Pool and the area around it, reported Councilmember Alice Male.

Two questions: where to borrow the lights for a 1970 summer experiment before investing $60,000 in permanent lights; and who should make the move, the Recreation Commission or a Borough
Township governing body?

Councilman Hendry joined Mrs. Male in her interest, and soon Councilmembers Charles Corn-forth said it wouldn't be all that difficult to set up temporary lights right now, and in the end all three agreed to persuade the Recreation Commission that we mean it.

Mrs. Male and Mr. Hendry repeated their desire to have community facilities available full time. "How about having the library open seven days

GAMES IN A BUBBLE: The Middle Schools' bubble gymnasium will look like this at night. This photograph (taken to be used for youngsters in Princeton's Middle School. a week, particularly Saturday, in summer?" they asked.
One-Hour Meters. Urged by the Chamber of Commerce, Council introduced an ordinance changing the 60 meters on the north side of Nassau from half-hour to a full hour. Parkers could still, however, buy six minutes for a penny. Public hearing Thursday, September 10.

Mr. Hendry told Council and audience that the Borough's Traffic Safety Committee opposed the ordinance. "It will increase the traffic problem because more cars will be chasing vacant spaces," he warned, "and it's the equivalent of eliminating actual parking spaces."

Football Series Starts

The first in the annual series of four articles on Princeton's football prospects this season — an analysis which first appeared in 1953 — is presented on page 21 of this week's issue.

He added that he also proposed the ordinance but was voting "yes" to get it introduced and onto the table for discussion.
Councilman Fred Peterson pointed out that some of the businessmen had signed a petition asking for the one-hour meters.

Everett Garrettson, owner of H. P. Claret, said it was no longer possible to shop in half an hour in Princeton.

More Meter-Freedom? "I'm always swayed, frankly, by prodding from a segment of the public, like these businessmen," commented Councilman Charles Cornforth. "I just hope it won't increase meter feeding and if it does, I hope the 60 businessmen will feel obligated to discourage their employees from meter feeding all day."

Mr. Hendry said Traffic Safety was about to study all day meters on side streets. "Sooner or later, we must solve the root problem of traffic and parking," warned Mayor Cayley.

Traffic around Princeton High School will be regulated under another ordinance introduced Tuesday with public hearing September 10. It covers the old Walnut Lane parking lot, the new lot and the circle in front of the building setting up rules for parking, standing, stopping, through traffic and speeding, but not who gets to park where.

"That's the school's problem," the Mayor said with some relief.
Another new ordinance regulates parades, allowing only one at a time, and prohibiting interference with a parade in progress.

No Discrimination. The Fair Housing ordinance was passed, allowing a complainant to take his case either to the Joint Civil Rights Commission or to Borough magistrate's court, as he chooses.

Asked who would do the investigating, Mayor Cayley said that was up to the complainant. Max Blumenfeld, a member of the Commission, said the Commission would help.

When the League of Women Voters, in a letter, proposed a temporary restraining order from the court, or perhaps a behavior of young people in front of Nassau Hall. He called the area a "miniature

the father of a teen-aged dau-

Mayor Cawley replied that the University has taken ac-

of the campus at night, adding that Borough police would be called in to cope with such serious offenses as liquor and drugs. He said that use of narsuggested that the area at

Meeting Dates Changed

Because of the calendar
pattern around Labor Day
this year, two municipal meeting dates have been changed.

Borough Council will meet Thursday, September 10 instead of the usual second Tuesday of the month. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall, as is customary.

The Princeton Regional Planning Board will meet to hear Princeton University's street changing plans on Wednesday, September 9, also in Borough Hall at 8 p.m. Normally the board meets the first Tuesday of the month.

been reluctant to take the step announced this week.

"After all, the University's opening the main campus
gates symbolized its outreach to the community," the mayor pointed out.

Praising the University's action, Mr. Hendry then spoke gloomily of the use of the Woodrow Wilson reflecting pool on Washington Road as a swimming pool. "Where are you going to call a halt?" he said.
Police Chief Peter J. Mc-Cranahan said he "heartily approved" with Mr. Rihardt's letter, and wished other adults
had the same attitude.

"291." Mrs. Male said the Child Guidance agency had reported a 300% increase in the use of its drug and pro-drug counseling since the counselors moved into new quarters at 291 Witherspoon.
Future plans may include a 24-hour "hot line" and even a halfway house for youngsters temporarily out of a home,
she said.

Without comment from the audience, ordinances setting up metered parking for commuters on University Place were unanimously passed.

Former Councilman William H. Walker was appointed to Borough liaison with the county's bus company.

Mrs. Esther Diworth was re-appointed to a five-year term on the Housing authority.

TENANTS INVITED

From Apartment Complexes.
Families who live in any of the apartment complexes in the area are invited to attend

zation, will speak on how to

BURGLAR IS KILLED

In Shoot-Out With Patrolman, Township Patrolman David Potts shot and mortally wounded a burglary suspect outside a Pretty Brook Road residence at 12:40 a.m. Sunday, while the two were engaged in a brief but fierce gun battle just 25 feet apart.

Allen Cullman Jr., 30, of Newark died of abdominal wounds about an hour later in Princeton Hospital.

He had come to Princeton

5,500 APARTMENTS IN PLAINSBORO? The hatched area shows land being sold to Lincoln Properties of Texas, the developers who hope to build a $70-million complex in Plainsboro Township over a 15-year period. The complex would include 5,500 apartments, a golf course, a commercial center, 166 acres for office-industry and a motel, plus a dozen or so swimming pools and two club houses. Land between the hatch marks indicates property-owners who have so far declined to sell. The area has just been re-zoned for Planned Community Development by Plainsboro Township Committee but residents oppose any take legal action.

Two squad cars cruising the Township at the time, one containing Patrolmen Mario Musso and Potts, the other, Sgt. Robert Heacock, sped to the home. Cullman's station wagon was parked in the driveway.

Pt. Potts said that he started around one side of the house, while Pt. Musso took the other. "I came around to the back and saw a door held open by a chair," Pt. Potts recounted. "I shined my flashlight into the room, spotted the suspect, then drew my gun and told him to 'hold it.'"

"He put his hands in the air and started walking toward me, but suddenly crouched behind a couch, pulled a gun and fired."

"Then he ran toward another door at the other side of the room, which was also open," Pt. Potts continued. He got outside where I was and we were facing each other about 25 feet apart, firing. I emptied my gun at him and then ran a short distance to a small group of trees to reload. He went off in another direction and we found him about 40 feet away where he had fallen."

A veteran of three bank robberies in Florida for which he was convicted and sentenced to 16 years in prison in 1965, Cullman was paroled after serving three years.

The killing of a burglary suspect was the first within the memory of Township police officials.

"TOWER" APPEAL?

No Firm Answer. The architect developers who want to build the 11-story Tower at Princeton, have until 4 p.m. this Friday to appeal the Regional Planning Board's negative decision of August 4 to Township Committee.

No decision has yet been made, according to A. C. Reeves Hicks, counsel for Collins, Uhl, Hoxington and Anderson, "Tower" architects. However, it is clear that the developers do plan some sort of action.

Mr. Hicks points out that his clients could by pass Township Committee altogether and go directly to Superior Court. It is also possible that the Planning Board itself might consider the matter anew.

Last week, the Planning Board presented a detailed majority report outlining reasons for approving construction of the Tower. Unexpectedly, the Board then voted 3-4 against its report and later, adopted a disapproving report by the same 3-4 margin. Five members of the board's 14 member slate were absent.

For comment by T.B. Fisher, a board member who was absent, see "Mailbox," page 18.

CAMPUS USE CURTAILED
No Visitors after Nightfall.
—Use of the front campus areas after nightfall will be limited to pedestrians," Princeton University announced this week, in a move to curtail public encampment at virtually all hours in front of Nassau Hall. "Visitors to the campus are welcome," the statement asserts, "but after 8:30 p.m., no one will be permitted to sit or congregate on the front campus lawns. Visitors are also requested to refrain from the use of illegal drugs, are strictly prohibited on campus property. Violators will be subject to arrest and prosecution."

"I applaud this action," Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said. "We've been concerned about the appearance and activity in that front campus area some pretty scandalous activities have been reported to me and the campus had been a kind of sanctuary because Borough police weren't going in. Presumably the University's own precincts will police the area.

A further admonition is directed toward the appearance of the campus. "Please help of efforts to keep the University's grounds clean and attractive," the statement requests. "Refuse containers are provided at various places."

The announcement on policy was made at further points out, because "The University is moved especially by a concern for the well-being of all members of the Princeton community, including younger and older residents of the town. Members of the University and visitors to the campus. The objective is to maintain the campus and its front lawns as attractive areas for the periodic enjoyment of all these people."

ZONING STARTS ROLLING
In Township. The first in a series of long-awaited amendments to the Township's zoning laws will be introduced Monday night with public hearing scheduled for September.

It's the Education District amendment, and according to Administrator Joseph R. Nani, it contains "no big surprises."

On Monday night, public hearing will be held before Township Committee on the Township's Fair Housing ordinance. The Borough's identical ordinance was passed Tuesday night.

Zoning amendments next on the Township's list are the Commercial Zone, which is almost ready; the Engineering (Office Research) Zone and finally the Residential districts. The Township Planning Board was left alive after formation of the Princeton Regional Planning Board, in order to complete work on the zoning amendments. It will be disbanded once the zoning job is done.

90 DAY STAY GRANTED

Your savings are spending...

Spending time not earning interest for you. That's costing you money. And that's not good. If your savings account doesn't pay interest from the day you make a deposit to the day you make a withdrawal, you have a dollar gap. At Princeton's First, we fill that gap. Fill it with interest on your savings. Interest that starts building the day you bring your deposit in. And doesn't stop until the day you take the money out. That's fair. So remember—

Princeton's First pays interest from day-of-deposit to day-of-withdrawal.

We pay interest on ALL types of savings plans. Regular accounts pay 4½% from day-of-deposit to day-of-withdrawal—as long as you have a minimum of $25. in your account at the end of the quarter. And it's compounded quarterly too. You can also choose from the Investment Passbook at 5%; the three-month certificate at 5%; the one-year certificate at 5½%; and the two-year certificate at 5¾%. At First National, there are lots of ways to keep your savings earning instead of spending. What could be fairer?

HOPEFUL 18-YEAR-OLDS: These 18-year-old Princeton residents may be able to vote after January 1. (In Princeton that means first vote can be cast in the school elections in February.) Hoping the 18-year-old franchise will be ruled legal, they are in Borough Hall with Mrs. Sara Rose, deputy Borough clerk. If the new measure is not sustained, registrations will be destroyed. Left to right: Ronald Medvia; Daniel Baumol; Mrs. Ethel Pankove, District 3 Democratic Committee woman; Bill Brooks and, partially hidden, Martin Pankove. (M. Pankove Photo)

Topics Of The Town

Thomas Leonard, supervisor of field control operations for the state's Bureau of Air Pollution Control, said in granting the stay that the burden of proof will be Princeton's. Donald T. Harney, Borough engineer, believes that he'll have his answers in six weeks after tests have been completed.

Borough Councilman James Andrews was appointed Tuesday night by Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley to be liaison man with the county on incinerator proposals. Mr. Andrews is the Borough's representative to the Joint Sewer Operating Committee.

A phalanx of Mercer County officials met Saturday with mayors of county towns, including the Borough (Mayor John D. Wallace of the Township had a preview meeting two weeks ago due to vacation schedules) and most of the meeting was incinerator talk, said Mayor Robert W. Cawley.

New Jersey plans to release on September 1, a solid waste disposal plan, a kind of frame into which counties can fit their own plans. The proposal is said to prefer a regional approach to the problem with counties serving as the "regions."

Mercer County Improvement Authority spokesmen told the mayor on Saturday that in four years, they can come up with a study to fit in with state proposals. The state has appropriated $250,000 for these county studies. (Too small a figure, in Mayor Cawley's opinion.)

"But Princeton can't wait four years!" Mayor Cawley told the county, and he said the county men agreed that Princeton did indeed have a serious problem, on a long range as well as short range view.

The discussion Saturday was very general, the mayor reported. However, the county does seem to be thinking in terms of an "administrative region," set up, employing several different facilities for solid-waste disposal — some landfills, some incinerators, and so on.

Ewing Township, for example, has a relatively new incinerator with a greater capacity than Ewing needs. Ewing might pay a regional authority for disposal of its own waste, and get money back in the form of payments from other municipalities using its incinerator. Princeton, with a functioning incinerator, might become a disposal point, too, although its location on the very edge of the county, might be undesirable because transportation costs can be high.

"The idea is to save money, and if that isn't the result, then — need cutting because Show is so wordy."

Although this Summer Intime brought in more money than 1968 or 1969 seasons, "we spent more, too," Mr. Berko wily estimates.

Lumber, for example, had already increased 30% in 1969 over 1968, and it went up again this year. Intime paid the rent for places where members of the company stayed, and there were problems with the sound system that turned out to be unexpectedly costly.

Nevertheless, Summer Intime hopes to bank $1,000 to $1,500 as a reserve fund. Princeton University requires a kitty in the bank as assurance against a bad season. In past years, Intime has had to take hat in hand and ask for money from patrons. This year—thank you, anyway, but it may not be required.

Film Records Fall

The melodrama "ZZ," based upon a 1963 political assassination in Greece, has broken all box office records
at the Garden Theatre during its four-week booking.
According to Fred Rhodes, Garden manager, the attendance tally stands at approximately 15,844, so far.
The film is held over for a fifth week.

"Z" has outdrawn "Easy Rider," which in its turn broke the box office record
held by "Paddy Swope."

Meanwhile, over at the Prince Theatre, "Catch 22" has been playing all week to a full house at both evening
shows. On the weekend, crowds were turned away.
Manager Steve Marrs re-

by, seeking out a passel of characters that seems large enough to populate "War and Peace."

The plot that draws the hundreds of characters together concerns a plane bound for Rome which has a mentally disturbed man aboard with a bomb in his satchel.

The characters play their roles with broad strokes—and the who who comes off best is indisputable Helen Hayes as the professional stayaway.

PRINCE

Catch 22 (now playing) Mike Nichols' film version of Joseph Heller's best-selling novel of World War II is close enough to the original to please most readers, is annoyed by Basil Henry (who also co-authored the script of "The Graduate") has retained a sufficient number of the alternately comical, outrageous and blood curdling episodes.

The squadron briefing scene,
in which General Dreedle, played by the gargantuan and still formidably talented Orson Welles, is annoyed by the moaning noises the airmen
make while leering at the sexy WAC who always accompanies him, has been so cleverly recreated that it is hilarious.
Alan Arkin, who plays Yossarian, the slightly mad non-conformist and loner who just wants to be grounded and sent home, is superb. Also very front and center is Jon Voight
as Milo, the shrewd opportunist who sets up an army "syndicate."

Other actors who sketch
their caricature roles sharply and quickly are Richard Benjamin as the cheerful cynic, Captain Danby; Anthony Perkins as the boyishly appealing chaplain; scriptwriter Henry as the nasty Lt. Col. Korn;
Bob Newhart as Major Major
and Paula Prentiss as Nurse Duckett.

The settings, filmed in Mexico and Rome, contribute to the atmosphere of fantasy required. David Watkins' photography is a thing of beauty.
One memorable shot among many is that of the rickety
B-25's taking off in an awkward formation, looking like wind-battered butterflies.

IT'S NEW To Us

NEW LOOKS AND LENGTHS
At Flemington Fur, Luxury
and light-hearted furs — created by Flemington Fur Company's award-winning designers—have the new looks and new lengths of the future.
Previewed at a showing at the River's Edge in Lambert ville with beauty Ethel Merman as commentator, the collection is keynoted by a long,
elegant, gracefully slender silhouette.

Hemlines, a matter of grave concern, have a certain indecisiveness at this point —
so you have great freedom in choosing the length that is the most flattering for your figure.
The furs at Flemington have lengths slightly below the knee to mid calf — although there are some extremely attractive walking coats in a pencil suit ending at the top of the knee. So choose your range, and be happy.

Flemington Fur is a most unusual company. Its customers come from all parts of the country these days, by car, bus and private plane — a tribute to its quality furs and workmanship, excellent design and lower prices. It opened on a very small scale in 1921, its factory-showroom deep in the Hunterdon County hills. The first collections were presented to women
of great charitable affairs
and advertised on a modest scale.

Today, it is the largest quality fur company in the United States. The factory-showrooms have been expanded 14 times but still, as in the first year, the company buys its own pelts, handles the design of fur garments, strictly supervises the workmanship of each fur garment, and sells directly to the customer on its own premises. You can go through the workrooms, if you like. It is a fascinating experience.

This year's collection's

FURS IN YOUR FUTURE: Here's a versatile parka of frost-dyed French rabbit with an ingenious goggle collar to be worn up or down, leather-trimmed slash pockets and a zip front for hush warmth (about $150). And natural racoon makes a comeback in an ankle length, double breasted coat, man-tailored with deep pockets and a wide collar (about $750). Both at Flemington Fur.

great star is a waist-cinching
coat of natural Russian crown sable. Soft and supple, it features a chin-hugging collar,
deep patch pockets and a casually tied belt. The length is mid, approximately. (about $2,800)

Imagine muskrat pelts cut in diamond shapes, beautifully matched and stitched with a deep, deep hem for a youthful,
go everywhere winter coat.
The thick, notched collar is of natural badger and a slip loop
of leather binds the waist.
(about $500.) For fun, choose matching mittens and knee-high spartan boots in natural badger.

A pants suit for the foothill game this fall could well be Flemington Fur's goucho look design in natural brown, white and tan calf-kn. Slightly slug-gy and beautiful, you'd wear
it with sleek, knee high boots and a flat topped, wide-brim med hat. The jacket is a narrow, double breasted type, with a flat, round collar. The trim goucho pants flare just below the knee and have deep side pockets. (around $400.)

There's an exquisitely-toned
Canadian sheared beaver coat in this year's collection, very cleverly worked horizontally and accented by a wide collar (about $1150); and a "cooversation piece" coat in fringy white Mongolian lamb with white leather inserts. (about $500.)

For sheer show stopping during apres ski, a poncho of cross fox front paw skins. The Persian lamb insert about half-way down is topped by thick natural fox. At the bottom, a wild, wonderful trim of varicolored foxtails. When you're not wearing it, the pon-cho is a bed cover, a throw,
or even a fireside rug. (about $800)

Fur drama, as well as warmth, there's Flemington's captivating ensemble of vest, goucho length pants and cape-
out — all in bright red dyed mole skin. The vest is high-necked, with a batch of automotive buttons marching down the front; the cape is all length and pocketed. The pants unfold into helibelts with the wind blows really chill. (about $1,800)

Also featured at the fashion
preview were exotic black dyed monkey; a mink great cape trimmed with canary
d fox; and a very lovely greatest in natural fitch. Of course there was a profusion of mink, from the traditional
J. p browns to the new high fashion dyed colors.

FABRIC SHOP OPENS
In Kingston, Canal Fabric Shop, just by the turn-off side of the Kingston Bridge if you're coming from Princeton, opened July 11 with a cottage full of interesting materials.

"We're going to try to feature things that most of the fabric shops don't get," according to Mrs. Peggy Swager, owner of the new enterprise. "We won't be buying huge bolts of the same material so our customers won't be seeing their new dress fabric everywhere they go."

With a horsehoe tacked on the wall behind her for good luck, Mrs. Swager has opened the only fabric store in South Brunswick Township.

She has a great variety of things — in reasonably small quantities — ranging from stretch length (people tell me they haven't been able to find it anywhere!) to a selective beautiful collection of panthe velvet.

Panne velvet is a supple material to drape. It's a knit that looks like velvet. "This is a fabric that is going to be worn a great deal this fall," Mrs. Swager predicts.

We were drawn to an exceptionally attractive collection of poncho and greatcoat weight pure woolsens. (60" wide, $3.79 yd.) Some are the darker tones like greys or greens. There's a lumberjack check in reds and a chocolate brown with a faint black cross bar among the others.

"Schools are so hot now days," Mrs. Swager observed as she showed us the Woolman pure cottons. "These are nice for school clothes." And nice for office, too, we thought. Perma Press, easy care materials that look like creases, bonded fabric, but can be laundered into the washer — and no problems. There are designs ranging from conservative to youthfully wild prints.

The Canal Fabric Shop has machine washable materials of bonded Dacron and Orlon. Some are extremely wearable plaids. And bonded acrylics that look like wool and are a boon to the girl at work. She can't tolerate wool, (60" wide, $2.99 yd.) These have a sand woven look, and the bonding permits you to skip the nuisance of lining.

We noticed Bates prints most of them dark for fall wear at school — in a great range of patterns. The craters are the fall season's earth colors. Most are wide wale, although you'll find a few pinwale.

Among the lightweight pure wools (under $3 yd.) we saw a rosy red to match your lipstick, a ridged beige; pastel pink, and a loose weave, cream.

Canal Fabric keeps its remnants in a marvellous old trunk, and its findings along the wall. Fringes — for your poncho or new tweed skirt — and holds in a selective variety from metallic to weave are all 29 cents a yard.

Canal Fabric Shop is open from 10 to 6 every day except Sunday; Fridays until 9. It's easiest to reach if you take the first possible right turn as you leave the bridge, and follow the little side road past the Millstone line up paralleling the main road.

And for posterity, we'd like to record the Canal Fabric Shop's first customer — a lady who has no sewing machine. Mrs. Mary Russo, who lives across Main Street from the shop, came in early because, as she told Mrs. Swager, "I want to be your first customer." She browsed and browsed, settling finally on material for kitchen curtains, which she's making by hand.

You Have Equal Opportunity to Rent This House

The shabby, run down house at 236 South Main Street, Pennington, will be revived, spruced up, subjected to plastic surgery and then offered for rent to a middle income family.

The Association for Equal Opportunities of Hopewell Valley is no new and laudatory. The group raised money to buy the house from its own 291 members, and obtained a low interest loan from the First Presbyterian Church, Pennington for remodeling.

Volunteer hands from the Association and the Pennington community will pull weeds, saw wood, nail timbers and dip paint brushes. By January 1—or so the Association hopes—a family can move in.

The house is structurally very sound, but it needs complete new heating, plumbing and wiring systems. An electrician who belongs to the Equal Opportunities group has volunteered to do the wiring, and a plumber who doesn't happen to belong is volunteering his expertise with pipes. Robert Tucker, an architect who is a member, has drawn the remodeling plans.

Pupils from Pennington schools and some Girl Scouts will be invited to volunteer, along with members of the Association who think they are handy.

"We're going to rent the house for what it costs to carry it, in terms of our loan."

no plan will succeed," the mayor commented. He added that perhaps the county's study could act as a catalyst to promote co-operation between municipalities.

RIGHTS BEFORE FREEDOM

Killer Seeks $50,000. Jose Soto, who had to be judged mentally fit before he could stand trial for the murder of bank teller Harold Pfister, is spending his days behind bars planning for the future. If the appeal for parole he will make at some future date is successful, he hopes to walk out of State Prison with $50,000 in his pocket.

That's the amount for which Soto is suing Michael J. Bajek, warden of Mercer County Jail.

HOUSE FOR RENT: This house in Pennington has been bought by the Association for Equal Opportunities of Hopewell Valley, and after members of the Association have re-habilitated it, the dwelling will be rented to middle-income families. Ready to begin work are, left to right, Harry Davis, Arthur H. Clark and Herbert Treuting. All are past-presidents of the Association. Mr. Clark has been handling financing for the new project and Mr. Treuting will be in charge of the re-habilitation.

and the $500 a year taxes," explains Mrs. Albert Seiring, of the Association. She adds that the group hopes this will be only the first of other projects.

The current president of the Association for Equal Opportunities is Mrs. Charles Scott.

He holds Mr. Bajek responsible for the time he spent in the State Hospital in the spring of 1968, after he had slashed his wrists while awaiting trial for Mrs. Pfister's killing.

It was in February, 1968, that Soto walked up to the outside window of Princeton Bank and Trust Co., pointed a gun at Mrs. Pfister and demanded money. When she exclaimed, "You've got to be kidding," he shot her in the heart.

Within a fortnight, Soto was arrested in New York by police of that city acting on a tip supplied by Princeton police. He remained at Mercer County jail, he used a makeshift knife in an attempt to commit suicide.

Soto was thereupon committed.

muted in the State Hospital in Italy for a week, but then for a further period at the request of doctors there. Mr. Bajek reports. The warden says that it was a doctor who made the original commitment and that he had nothing to do with such action.

In November 1968, Soto was judged mentally fit to stand trial. A month later, he pleaded no defense and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Soto filed suit against the warden in U. S. District Court in Camden. He is acting on his own behalf without attorney.

A RASH OF THEFTS
Plague thorough and Township Petty thieves were busy in both Borough and Township last week, lifting wallets, tape recorders, a cash register and even four half kegs of beer.

Engine Co. No. 3 lost the beer, plus another half keg of hunch beer from its picnic area at Squatters Grove on Bridge Road. The kegs were left behind an open bar and covered with a tarp Saturday night and were gone the next morning by the time Donald Woodward of 15 Hodge Road, a member of Engine Co. No. 3, showed up.

Tape recorders were reported missing by Anne Russell of 130 Liberty Place, who left hers in the back seat of her car while she went to play tennis at Community Park Courts on July 24, and Wesley Coen, who left his in the main dining room of the Nassau Inn overnight on August 9, and could not locate it the next day.

Mrs. Helen Glover of the Dixie Wright Shop reported her wallet was stolen from under a display case at the store sometime between 2 and 5:30 p.m. on Monday. No value was given.

On Saturday, a newspaper delivery driver spotted a purse lying on the front lawn of 22 Jefferson Road and the front door open. Subsequent investigation by police revealed the purse belonged to Mrs. Jeanne Richardson of the same address. Mrs. Richardson told police she had left her purse in the living room the night before.

She said she and her teen-age son heard noise in the house around 1 a.m. but did not check. Some $100 in cash was taken from the purse.

Later that day, in the Marquand Park parking lot, Patricia Stoop, 50 Grover Avenue, lost $5 when her purse was stolen from the glove compartment of her car between 5 and 10 p.m. It was found two days later in the park.

On Friday at 4 p.m. Mrs. B. Bunting, an employee of Westminster College, reported her purse missing from her desk. The purse was later recovered in another part of the building, but a pair of gold earrings, a gold bracelet and $50 in cash, for a total value of Continued On Page 16

"CHARLEY'S BROTHER"
New Restaurant to Open.
When the customers like the food, they'll come back for a second helping.

That's the idea behind a new "Good Time Charley's" restaurant, due to open soon just outside Hopewell on the Route 518 Spur of Broad Street.

"Charley's Brother" will be the new name. The restaurant, formerly the Tin Cochman, and before that, Hopewell Manor, has been purchased by Merrill Zinder, owner of Good Time Charley's in Kingston.

Mr. Zinder opened the Kingston Charley's slightly less than a year ago.

The two dining rooms in the new location will be furnished in the Charley manner—dimly lit, cozy, informal, pleasantly cluttered Victorian, with a lot of nostalgia scattered around. The cocktail lounge will serve live music for listening, dancing and drinking live cocktails. Banquet facilities, parking all around the building and Mr. Zinder says, "charge accounts welcomed."

"Charley's Brother" will be open seven days a week for dinner, and Monday through Friday for lunch.

"The same delicious food and outsize cocktails we serve at Charley's in Kingston," proclaims Mr. Z.

The computer and software company, whose headquarters are on Route 206 reported a net loss for the quarter ended June 30 of $10,000 or 5 cents a share, compared with a net loss of $306,000 or 32 cents a share for the quarter ended March 31.

Operating revenues for the second quarter of the year totalled $1,924,000, an increase of 42 percent over the first quarter revenues of $1,332,000. Proprietary software sales increased to $399,000 for the second quarter, compared with $332,000 for the first three months of the year.

Commenting on the marked improvement in operations, Mr. Bennett stated that the company has essentially met its goals for the second quarter. "In May, we projected that second quarter operations would be at an approximate break-even level. We believe that we have met this goal."

Meanwhile in the Township on the same day, Henry Harbison returned from work to find his parents' home completely ransacked, and a sliding glass door from the master bedroom to the backyard smashed. The senior Harbisons are on vacation and it is not known what may have been taken.

Early Saturday morning, Mr. Harbison called police again to report he had heard a man outside his bedroom. P.I. Marzio Musso responded and the two of them searched the area. Mr. Harbison said he had chased a suspect to Washington Road before losing him.

Where can you find real beauty?

A great poet once said, "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder."

The Bible shows that beauty is a quality of God, who is the Soul of man.

This means that all the beauty we could ever hope for is already present in our own real consciousness. But to find it, we need to turn to God, and to see ourselves in relation to Him — the source of true beauty.

Christian Science can help you do this. The Bible Lesson on "Soul" to be read in our church this Sunday is a good place to begin.

You are warmly invited to come.

ZONING APPROVAL GIVEN: For Nassau Savings Branch. The Nassau Savings and Loan Association has been granted a variance by the West Windsor Township Zoning Board to construct a building on Princeton Hightstown Road near Cranbury Road.

The building, expected to cost more than $200,000, would be built on a 1.3-acre site owned by John R. Janick, from whom the bank has an option to buy the land. The association would use 6,000 feet of the 12,000 foot structure for a branch office, according to its president Walter B. Foster, and another 4,000 square feet would be leased to Mr. Janick's Craft Dry Cleaners, which would move from its present location across the road.

The site is located in a light industry, research and office zone, and the zoning approval was a reaffirmation of a previous variance granted to Mr. Janick. Nassau Savings' main office is at 194 Nassau Street. The board also approved the conversion of a garage into a small print shop on land owned by Daniel R. Goldenson, who also has an office building on the same 0.5-acre lot on Washington Road and Station Drive. Arthur Kimmel, 1 Harrison Lane, will lease the space for the PDQ Press.

FREE CLASSES TO BEGIN: For Expectant Parents' Benefit. Rebuilding Defense Tigers' No. 1 Task for 1970 Football Season

(This is the first in a series of four articles on the prospects of Princeton University's football team in 1970.)

The 1969 football season at Princeton was transformed from impending disaster to spectacular success in the space of five short weeks largely because a baker's dozen members of the Class of 1970 reached the peak of their careers simultaneously. There was major assistance from others, of course, but the 13 seniors who started in the still-astrounding 357 rout of Dartmouth were primarily responsible for the Tigers' ability to turn a mediocre 2-2 record into a highly-satisfying 6-3 season and a wholly surprising share of the Ivy title with the Indians and Yale.

Now, of course, the seniors are gone, and their places are marked by blanks on the depth chart which must somehow be filled with something approaching full replacement value by the time the stretch run begins. In at least four positions (the defensive trio of tackles Bob Hewes and Tom Hutchinson and end Jim Nixon, plus quarterback Scott MacBean), it won't be possible to create genuine facsimiles in a single season. Hopes for success comparable to that of last fall must rather be based on improvement elsewhere, blended with adequate performances on the part of those who replace the three defensive stars plus the near-famous Scott MacBean.

Of the 13 seniors who have concluded their careers, seven were starters on offense and six on defense. However, of those lost on offense, five were linemen for whom there are a number of capable replacements, a situation which also prevails at fullback. Accordingly, the most difficult job of rebuilding is among the decimated "front five" and in the deep secondary on defense.

Overall, Coach Jake McCandless has lost 21 lettermen and has 18 returning. The attrition from last November is worse by two than it was a few weeks ago; an end and a linebacker who had been counted on for key contributions to the defensive platoon have both had to give up football while still in college.

The full report on offense shows that in addition to the five linemen and two starting backs who have graduated, the immediate reserves have been lost at left tackle and at quarterback. On defense, which must first replace the three men on the line and the trio in the deep secondary, losses include the top reserves at both ends and one of the linebacking spots. Numerically, the greatest number of departures is at end, where eight of the departed 21 lettermen played; conversely, all of the centers, the flanker backs, the middle guards and all but one of the linebackers will return.

Of the 19 seniors who were lettermen, nine won them in each of their three seasons on the varsity, an unusually high number. Six earned All Ivy status in their final year.

By positions, these are the men who must be replaced. Offensive Ends: Both starters — Rob Bordley and Mark Buros — who between them caught more than 40% of the passes the Tigers completed last season. Both were good blockers. Bordley despite his 5-7 frame, the diminutive spit end also handled almost all of the punt and kickoff returns.

In addition, two-year letterman Paul Miller has graduated, as has Stewart Dill. The latter, a converted center, did not see a great deal of action.

Offensive Tackles: Ed Gondolf, a versatile 265-lb. two-year letterman who was used at both guard and tackle but started in the latter capacity last November when injuries so dictated. Jim Tkack, who also played both these positions during his career, and finished as the top replacement at left tackle, has likewise graduated.

Offensive Guards: As is the case at end, both 1969 starters are lost this year. Rich Guerin, tough and durable, is gone, as is the versatile Dan White. The last single wing quarter back in Princeton history, White — Continued on Next Page used his blocking ability to make a highly successful conversion to a starting berth in the line. Both Guerin and White were three-year lettermen.

Craters: None.

Offensive Backs: The one-two punch at quarterback is gone, as is one of the top full-backs in modern Princeton football history. The latter was Ellis Moore, outkicked in all probability only by Cosmo Iacavazzi and Mike Miles, a product of the Bill Roper era. Bothered by an incipient hernia in his senior year, Moore was a fine inside threat whose five touchdowns against Harvard as a sophomore may stand as an Ivy record for some time.

While rehabilitating the defense is Princeton's biggest 1976 problem, the biggest single loss was created by the graduation of Scott MacHieff to a matter of weeks, he completed the difficult transition from single-wing tailback to T-quarterback, his running and passing enabling the Tigers to outscore the opposition in their final five games, 175 to 50.

MacBeon finished the season as the Ivy League's leader in total offense by a wide margin and took such legendary names as Dick Karmalar and Dave Alexander out of the Princeton record book in a number of categories.

"He was a team leader, a quarterback who could pass beautifully and who could run well when necessary," MacBeon says of him. "We cannot hope to develop someone like him in a single season."

Gone, too, is Arnie Holtberg, who switched from being a good linebacker to a good quarterback. In limited seasons they put in working together.

During their drive toward the top last fall, the Tigers led the Ivies in least yards allowed passing and had only one touchdown scored against them in the air—a heaven help us effort thrown by Harvard in the final seconds of the first half, when the Orange and Black had edged out to a 30-0 lead. Combining with the Hutchinson News Nixon trio, Manney, Manzo and Lips were responsible for holding the opposition to an average of just over eight points in the final five games of the season. Small wonder that Jake McCandless hopes the Tigers can hang enough points on the board while the defense is learning how to be as stingy as Scrooge.

TO SWIM IN NATIONALS: Jane Fremont, Hector Quailly. Jane Fremont and Chuck Hector of Princeton have qualified for national championship swimming meets.

Miss Fremont qualified for the AAU National Swimming Championships by virtue of her performance in the 100-meter freestyle race at the Eastern Championships in Lancaster, Pa., last week end. Her time was 1:03.1, which was good enough for a third place. The National Championships will take place in Los Angeles from August 29 through August 31. Miss Fremont, a June graduate of Princeton High School, will enter Princeton University in September. She is affiliated at present with Shore Aquatic Club, in Sea Bright, where she works with her coach, Bill Palmer, and teaches swimming. The Shore Aquatic team will send two girls, Miss Fremont and Susan Halfacre, of Fair Haven, and a boys relay team to the Nationals.

Chuck Hector qualified for the National Junior Olympic Championships, to be held this week in Knoxville, Tenn., when he won first place in the 100-meter breaststroke race for boys 13 and 14 at the Region 1 Junior Olympics Championships at Clifton Knolls, N. Y. His time was 1:19.4.

Hector will enter ninth grade at Peddie School in September, where he works with coach Bob Beaulieu, and where he won his varsity letter in swimming last year. Hector is also affiliated with the Princeton Y.

MISS LAPIDUS TRIUMPHS: In Trenton Tennis Tourney, Mary Lapidus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lapidus, 149 Galhwaith Drive West, has won the Girls Eighteen and Under sanctioned singles tennis tournament held in Trenton.

Defensive Ends: Jim Nixon, Tom Peters and Jim Huiden. Another of the three-year lettermen to go, Nixon combined fine play reading ability with sure tackling and will be sorely missed. Peters was used sparingly because he was the back up man for the fine sophomore, Steve Sikora. Huiden has two more years of eligibility and would have been the ranking replacement for Nixon, but has been told for medical reasons that he must forgo football.

Defensive Tackles: A knee injury in the Rutgers game as a sophomore kept Tom Huiden from earning three letters, but the 220 lb. Pennsylvanian put in two fine years thereafter, converting from end to tackle last fall. Hews, who got better and bigger, stood 6'6 and weighed good 300 in his senior year—a combination of ability and size which led to his being drafted by the world champion Kansas City Chiefs.

"You do not," says McCandless in forthright but wistful fashion, "replace three defensive linemen such as Huiden, Hews, and Nixon from one season to the next."

Middle Guards: None.
Linebackers: This extremely well fortified position would have escaped at triton govt free, since there were no seniors playing there last fall. However, Chris Waugh, a two-year letterman who captained the Freshmen in 1967, has been awarded an Urban Aid grant and will spend three days a week in New York next fall working on his thesis. Football accordingly drops out of his future.

Defensive Backs: Three of the four drop backs (the corner backs and one safety man) have departed via the diploma route. The Patriots Keith Manney and Pete Lips, both three-year lettermen, and Mike Manzo, who would have joined them in this achievement but for a broken wrist which kept him out of action for part of his sophomore year.

Manney, good enough to be an early draft choice of the Atlanta Falcons, started all 27 games of his varsity career and earned all-Ivy status as both a punter and a senior. In three years, he picked off ten opposition passes for a total of 200 yards and one touchdown. Manzo and Lips were not far behind him in ability and the 1968 statistics reflect the effectiveness of the two plus

 Miss Lapidus, who won all but three games, has retained the champion title since she entered the Twelve and Under singles division six years ago. Next week she will compete in the Girls National Champion ship at Philadelphia Cricket Club.
 Also earning recognition, her younger brother, Jay Lapidus, was the only other Princeton player to advance to a singles semifinal. Jay was defeated 2-3, 6-2 by Rick Stillman of Metuchen, No. 1 seed and ultimate winner of the division.

CONTE'S BAR IN FIRST
 As Regular Season Ends, Post-season playoffs for the championship of the Princeton Adult Softball League began this week with Conte's Bar the odds-on favorite, off its strong finish in regular season play. Conte won twice last week to finish first ahead of Teague and Hands by two games.
 Monday night, Conte's squeezed by Nassau Conover, 5-3, with Ray Cranston, Doug Watson and Jack Roberts collecting two hits apiece. Jim Quinn had two hits and also scored twice. Dick Olson and Frank Zalivno contributed to two hits to Nassau Conover.

The second night out, the Barmen had an easier time of it, trouncing Harrison Athletic Club 13-2, with runs in every inning. Scott Anderson had a home run and a double while George McVaugh and Jack Roberts each belted triples. Don Betterton led HAC with two safeties.

Led by David Sweeney and Ray Pettus who had seven hits between them, the Outlaws gunned down Teague and Hands 10-9, in an extra-inning contest that knocked Teague out of first place. Rich Volz brought in the winning run in the eighth with a single. Don Butts had a three-run homer for Teague.

Wednesday night Teague dropped its second game to Ivy Inn. A five-run sixth inning turned the trick for the victors, who pounded out 14 hits. Dick McCluskey was the winning pitcher.

 HAC won its third game of the season with an 8-7 triumph over Ivy on Monday. Pinch hitter Calvin Johnson drove in the winning run in the last inning to cap a three-run rally. Jack Russo had a triple for the winners, and Craig Donaldson was the winning pitcher.

Varsity Sport Shop held on to a spot in the Playoffs with a 15-5 win over the Outlaws. Sam Proccacini had four of Varsity's 23 hits, and scored three times. The league's leading batter, Gerald Grover played the game in a neck brace as the result of a recent automobile accident, but didn't let it bother his hitting, as he picked up two safeties.

In the playoffs, Conte's and Varsity are involved in one semi-final round, while Teague and Ivy Inn are matched in the other. Each is best two out of three games, with the winners playing a two out of three series for the championship.

 Leads as Last Week Begins.
 Tuesday night's games were expected to decide who would finish first in the western division of the Business Softball League, with a three way tie between RCA A, NCA and Cities Service a possibility.

Wally Reichert allowed only one runner to get as far as third base, in scattering 10 hits for the win. Ron Infanti had six for six, Reichert five for five, Dan Pullorak, five for six. Mel Sanders four for four, and Phil Moody, three for four.

Lot 16 at Princeton University at 8:30 and returning by 6 (Rain date will be same as arrangements on Wednesday.)

The clinic will be conducted by top national tennis players and will be televised. After the clinic, everyone will be given free tickets to watch the matches.

This is a major USLTA event featuring internationally top ranked players at a grass court club in Philadelphia. The only cost is $2 for the bus trip. Everyone should bring a picnic lunch.

Many adult chaperones will be needed. They will also qualify for the clinic and the free tickets to the matches. Anyone who wishes to go should sign up at the Pagoda, Church, or Community Park courts with Joseph Diefenbach, or Karen Fitzpatrick if you are a Princeton resident. Call Karen Fitzpatrick to reserve a space — 924-2190.

SWIM CLUB LOSSES
On Last Relay Event, Nassau Swim Club dropped a close meet last week to the Valley Swim Club of Flemington, 61 to 37, the outcome hanging on the final event, the boys' step up medley relay.

Valley's victorious quartet consisted of three brothers — Lank, Ben and Mike Doyle, and Brian Baumann. They also won their individual races.

First place finishers for Nassau included Dave Freeman, Gretchen Dobrott, Abbie Wilson, Carrie Bolster and Mike Martin. Both girls' relays were also won by Nassau.

Members of the winning teams in these events were: Carrie Bolster, Becky Freeman, Brenda Bruce, Jane Bolster, Abbie Wilson, Mary Bolster, Gretchen Dobrott and Carrie Kidd. Nassau's record is now 22.

BEDENS BROOK WINS
In Brooktree Swimming Meet, Amassing 104 points, the Bedens Brook Swim team captured the Brooktree Invitational meet, for its second win in area competition this summer and fourth straight first place finish in Princeton meets.

Warrenbrook tallied 72 points to place second, Nassau, fourth, 54, and Brooktree, fifth, 43. Other teams in the meet included Penn Brook, Stony Brook, Cranbury, Lakeridge West and Middlesex.

Earlier this summer at Bedens Brook was the Princeton area championships at Stonybrook by a four point margin.

MISS LAPIDUS WINS
In Princeton Tennis Tournaments, This past week, 33 of the Princeton area's junior tennis enthusiasts traveled to Cadwallener Park in Trenton to compete in the annual Trenton Junior Championships, a sanctioned USLTA event.

Top winner was Mary Lapidus, who walked away with the Girls 18 title, defeating Trenton's Karen Garling.

Terry Blake reached the semi-finals in both singles and doubles of the Girls 16 division in singles as was defeated by Debby Peck, 6-0, 4-6, 5-7 and in doubles, with her partner, Pam Moss, lost in three close sets: 6-4, 4-6, 5-7.

Chris Lillie also fared well, reaching the finals of the Boys 18 before he was ousted 4-6, 6-3, 2-6.

Mary's brother, Jay reached the semi-finals of the Boys 12 where he was defeated by the eventual winner, Rick Slittman, 7-3, 6-2.

Others who did well were David Straul, Danny Thompson, and Randy Golick who reached the quarter-finals of their respective age divisions.

Those entering from the Princeton area were: Randy Golick, Cindy Guy, Randy Thomas, Alan Sloane, Bill Tobolsky, John Davis, J. Berckhammer, J. L. Berckhammer, Philip Glochevitch, Charlie Liffand, Cam Ferreson, Steve Mead, J. J. Lapidus, Mary Lapidus, Terry Blake, Dan Scholman, Sam Lamm, Randy Thompson, Chris Lillie, Bob Silverman, Jonathan Silverman, Chris Miller, Keven Little, Sheri Bauer, David Bauer, Debbie Baumer, Darren Hicks, Libby Hicks, Neil Leikowitz, Bill Adams, Bill Schmidt, David Straul, Jeff Lyle, Patti Kidd.

The next tournament will be the Eastern Pennsylvania Boys Championships at Philmont Country Club. Anyone interested in forming car pools for this event should call Mrs. Nelson Scholman, 924-7235 or see Joseph Diefenbach at the University Courts.

TWO FROM HERE BEATEN
In National Junior Tennis, Two of Princeton's top junior tennis players traveled to Kalamazoo, Michigan, last week to take part in the annual National Boys Junior Tennis Championships, but were beaten in the early rounds by tough opponents.

Michael Glochevitch, a junior at Princeton High School, and Steve Tobolsky, a junior at the Lawrenceville School, were among nine boys selected by the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association to represent New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania in this major United States Lawn Tennis Association Championship. Players must qualify by their tournament record in sectional events before they are permitted to enter the national tournament.

At Kalamazoo, they ran up against tough competition among the 128 entries from every state in the country. Tobolsky was ousted by a Michigan player in three close sets, 4-6, 3-6, 6-4. Glochevitch met an Alabama player who defeated him 6-1, 6-1. They then teamed up in doubles where they were finally ousted by a Chevy Chase, Maryland, duo — again in three sets, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

This coming week, the boys will try their luck again in an easier field. They plan to enter the Eastern Pennsylvania Boys Championships at Philmont Country Club outside of Philadelphia, where they will both be favored entries over their respective age divisions.

News Of The CHURCHES

SPECIAL PROJECT ENDS
At Unitarian Church. For the past eight weeks, 50 children from Trenton's Woodrow Wilson School have spent Thursdays in Princeton Area homes as participants in a summer reading and recreation program sponsored by the social concerns committee of the Unitarian Church and the Trenton Reading Department. A Federal Title I grant was arranged by Tom Cooper of United Progress, Inc., to fund the program.

The children, ages 6 to 12, were selected by Mrs. Nadine Williams, reading coordinator at Woodrow Wilson. A high percentage of them have returned from last summer's pilot group.

Program coordinators included Mrs. Esie Best and Mrs. Susan Elliott of Skillman; Mrs. Sally Easter, Mrs. Jan Flaughner and Mrs. Carol Haag of Princeton; Mrs. Mary Pock, West Windsor, and Mrs. Doris Harley, Trenton.

The program was planned to increase each child's ability in language skills and reading, as well as provide summer fun. The trips were planned on an individual basis by each of the 30 host families and 20 substitute families. The children of ten wrote and illustrated stories of their experiences and visits to places of interest.

MUSIC SERVICE SET
At Princeton Baptist. Contemporary and folk gospel music will be presented by the "Hamilton Squares" during the 10 a.m. service on Sunday at Princeton Baptist Church, Penn. Neck.

The Rev. James Olsen, recently ordained at the church, will give the sermon, "God's Word and Man's Response." The Rev. Mr. Olsen has been called as pastor of First Baptist Church, Factoryville, Pa.

BULLETIN NOTES

Owen H. Gaskins is in charge of music for the remainder of the church. An after-church dialogue will take place following the 10 a.m. service.

Cynthia Ward, chairman of the church school worship committee, at the Unitarian Church, will lead the informal summer service at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday at the church. Her topic is "Summer Seminars—slides, sounds, reflections." She is a graduate student at Rider College.
